History of the Month:

Asian Pacific American Heritage Month

During the late 19th century, the US Federal Law opening targeted Chinese immigrants. 10 years later, the Geary Act was renewed that stated immigrants must carry permits at all times of face deportation. Which limited the number of immigrants that could enter into the US each year.

Mr. M.Y. Lee came to the US in the 1800s. He became a successful business man. He was later killed in the fight for Asian American rights. Lee wanted everyone to know that Asian American people contribute just enough to history as any other culture. APAHM is during May because it's documented the very first know Japanese immigrant to live in the United States was on May 7, 1843.
